Quan Win

Quan Win is 22 years old. As far as he can tell, there are very few other Chinese people living near him in the Greater Miami Valley. He thought it would be an adventure to just ride the rails and when the railroad stopped in Dayton he decided to stay. He came to the U.S.A. with his parents – among the last to get in before the Chinese Exclusion Act took effect. Now his parents are dead, and federal law prevents him from becoming a naturalized citizen. He was able to find a job hooking up railroad cars around Dayton's Union Station. He works 55 – 60 hours a week but because of his ethnicity he is forced to pay double the monthly rent for his tiny one room apartment next to the tracks.
He has considered leaving Dayton for a bigger city with a larger Chinese population. It might be easier to find people who speak his language and can help him find a room or a job. But getting there costs money, and nobody has promised him work.

What does this character want?

Identify two goals from the biography.

_____

_____

Who brings in money?

Person	Type of work

Use this packet for written work. Use the website's calculators. You do not need to copy every purchase or calculation, even if a screen asks you to.

Discuss one advantage and one obstacle from the biography.

Who does necessary work without a paycheck? _____

Starting yearly household income: $_____
Starting savings: $15 before purchases or unpaid bills. Savings are not yearly income.

The Goal:

Our dream: _____

Total needed to pay for our goal: $_____
Income needed to support that life each year: $_____
Record the full goal cost—not the amount still missing. For Harold, use the farm goal; for other households, use the goal shown for their character.

Our targets: Standard of living _____ /100 Quality of life _____ /100

Justification: _____

What are you willing to give up?

After choosing your current life, what choices helped your budget but cost your family something. What made you think it would be worth it?

_____

_____

The plan

What will you do to move toward the goal? Who will give up time, comfort or opportunity?

_____

_____

_____

When life happens

After accepting each year's decision, record what happened, your choice, and the cash carried into the next year. Use a minus sign for unpaid bills. Do not copy the forecast or just this year's gain. For the final year, record cash BEFORE paying for the goal.

Year	What happened and what we decided	Closer or farther? Cash at year's end
1900		Closer / Farther $_____
1901		Closer / Farther $_____
1902		Closer / Farther $_____
1903		Closer / Farther $_____
1904		Closer / Farther $_____

Did you get the life you wanted?

Could you afford the goal? Yes / No
Did you achieve the whole family dream? Yes / Partly / No
Consider the goals in the biography and both life targets—not just the money or the key.

Final standard of living: _____ /100

Quality of life: _____ /100

Did you revise the dream or either target? What changed, and why? If not, write “no change.”
_____
Revised goal cost: $_____ Yearly cost: $_____
Revised targets: Standard of living ____ /100 Quality of life ____ /100
Keep your original targets on page two.

What could moving change for Quan? Which barriers would follow him?

Was the path to the middle class worth the sacrifices? Explain a trade-off between standard of living and quality of life, or why you revised the dream.

Explain how urbanization shaped your story?
